When a Rapid City, S. D., drug store advertised in a newspaper the other day, "Special prices today, as boss is out of town," Bar-num, the greatest advertiser of all time, probably guffawed from whatever viewpoint he now occupies. And the proprietor of the store, who no doubt wrote the advertisement—was the gentleman behind the pole across the street who watched the crowds line in?

A fortune awaits the man, in any business, who knows how to advertise. Advertising is the art of getting people to buy today that which they had no intention of buying before tomorrow, if ever. Not every business man has an advertising genius, but every newspaper employs advertising men who know the art of moving merchandise.

The newspaper is the greatest property builder because it is directly responsible for selling more goods than all other mediums combined.—St. Petersburg Times.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay.

Well, it looks like the only "Peace" Master Mussolini is interested in is a "piece" of Ethiopia, and if the rest of the world doesn't like it, it's not of his business. That's what comes of giving a bad little boy a nice new shiny gun and a flock of tin soldiers to play with.

This I'm glad to hear President Roosevelt made the statement that this is one time when Uncle Sam expects to stay home and mind his own business.

Ninety-nine percent of the men, women and children in America feel just the same way about it that Franklin does, but unfortunately the other one percent happens to include the big shot gun-show boys who know what wires to pull and have got the money to pull 'em with. They know that a smart guy can make a lot of money out of a war, and their favorite indoor sport is making a lot of money.

When we didn't have the slightest idea that we were going to be dragged into the last big war, when the medals started, yet we got only got sucked in, but had the pleasure of paying for it in the bargain.

Clashes of our gettin' messed up in big one look just as remote right now, but you let somebody sink a few American ships or wipe their feet on our flag, and in no time at all we'll have a flock of pol-bellied patriots standing on stumps yelpin' for "Revenge."

Then all you'll need is a military parade, a few bands to play the "Star Spangled Banner," a couple of nice juicy atrocity stories about how we're havin' their heads sliced off and babies held' bawled on bayonets and the great elite clubs will be organized committees to sell "Liberty Bonds" and "War Bonds" and be on their way to "Make the World Safe for Democracy."

No matter which side we jump in on, we'll be expected to put up the jack as well as our share of the bill. The old "Welcome" sign will be hung out again for the noble "American Dough-Boy" and a swell time will be had by all.

Then a war-torn world will return to its senses and crawl back in a corner to lick its wounds. Will our Allies appreciate the part we played? Will they repay us for the money we loaned them? They WILL NOT! They'll abuse and revile us, and laugh off their debts; all we'll get out of it will be a nice new "American Legion," another troublesome bonus question, and a glorious headache.

A lot of American homes will enjoy the proud privilege of hanging a gold star in the window, others will have a nice new "American Legion," another troublesome bonus question, and a glorious headache.

No—I'll admit it isn't a very pleasant picture, but it's one we ought to be looking at and thinking about right now as we never look and thought before.

Africa, you say, is a long way off, and this war is different. But so was Europe in 1914 and so was that different. Remember, a herd of cattle grazing on a plain is a peaceful sight, but let 'em start to stampede and they're mighty hard to stop.

No, you won't get into it—we've no quarrel with anybody—we're not interested. But a hundred million Americans grabbed for the EXTERMINATION of the "other side" in battle, and right then we began to choose up sides. Hearing the head lines one guy remarks "Get cockeyed Eye-tallians ought to get hell licked out of 'em." Another man chirps in, "Well, I dunno, they ain't doin' no more than they ever other's doin' none at all." And another you know from the headlines, "The new organization and name will be adopted. A cordial invitation is extended to attend. Let us have the better attendance."

The new tennis and basketball court is nearing completion. The trading has been done and the goods, everyone has taken a shot at making variations of it. Some people just drink the juice, some canned tomatoes, and save the vegetables themselves for use in other dishes. Others prefer the prepared canned tomato juices with seasoning added. Still others try to blend the juice and concoct concoctions of tomato juice and other ingredients. Tomato juice is a beverage of which you do not tire, but it is interesting to know how some people have tried to vary it. Here are a few examples:

The Simplest Form. Iced Tomato Juice: Mix together and chill thoroughly the contents of two cans tomato juice, salt and pepper to taste, two tablespoons sugar, a few drops of Worcestershire sauce and a few drops of Tabasco sauce. Serve six.

Tomatoade: Heat two cups strained tomato juice and one-fourth cup sugar to boiling to dissolve the sugar. Add one-fourth cup lemon juice and one-half cup Worcestershire sauce, and chill. Serve very cold in cocktail glasses. Serves six.

Tomato Propp: Season the contents of a can tomato juice with salt, pepper, paprika and convention. S. E. Campbell was elected president, M. D. Harvy, vice president, and Mrs. W. H. Rawls, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Campbell appointed Mrs. D. D. Harvy, Mrs. H. C. Willis, Mrs. W. C. Allen, Mrs. F. W. Mutchler and Mrs. W. M. Jeffries a committee to canvass the town and enroll those who wished to join a singing class.

The first meeting will be on Wednesday evening at the Baptist church at 7:30 p. m. Tentative plans were discussed for securing Terry Driggers as teacher of this class, the course to be not less than fifteen lessons of an hour and a half each. All those who are interested are urged to attend this initial meeting of the class.

Let potatoes stand 15 minutes in hot water before baking and it will take half the usual time.

ORGANIZE SING UNIT SOUTH BAY

The South Bay Baptist church celebrated Rally Day on Sunday with all day services. Sunday school was followed by an hour song service. Luncheon was then served buffet style on the grounds. The young people and primary department gave a playlette.

MOST MODERN

OF ALL BEVERAGES

If you were asked what is the newest beverage that is being consumed from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Maine to Mexico, you could make only one answer—tomato juice. Tomatoes, which were thought to be poisonous in the Middle Ages, are being served now to our tables. Not the drinking of the juice pressed from tomatoes has acquired such a vogue in the last few years that it is now one of the major concerns of the commercial canning industry. There are a number of reasons for this, all good, but the chief reason is that tomato juice just lastest is to nearly every body.

As is perfectly natural when any new beverage has such a vogue, everyone has taken a shot at making variations of it. Some people just drink the juice, some canned tomatoes, and save the vegetables themselves for use in other dishes. Others prefer the prepared canned tomato juices with seasoning added. Still others try to blend the juice and concoct concoctions of tomato juice and other ingredients. Tomato juice is a beverage of which you do not tire, but it is interesting to know how some people have tried to vary it. Here are a few examples:

Who Owns The Telephone Company

MORE than eight hundred thousand people own the securities of the Bell Telephone System and most of these folks are small investors. No person owns as much as one-fifth of one per cent of the outstanding stock. The largest single stockholder, an insurance company, has less than one per cent and the average holding is only twenty-eight shares per stockholder.

Nearly half of the stock of the Bell System is owned by women, about two hundred and ten thousand of whom are housewives. There are about ninety thousand clerks and salespeople who have invested their savings in this business and thirty thousand manual laborers.

There are other thousands of farmers, merchants, professional men and others in every State of the Union who have placed their money and faith in the telephone industry. Trust funds for educational institutions, churches, orphanages, and homes for the aged, whose funds must be carefully guarded, have invested large amounts in this business.

No other company is owned by so many different people as is the Bell System.

It is this vast army of small investors who own the telephone business and it is these folks who have, by their sacrifice and saving, supplied the capital to build for you the world's finest and best telephone system. They own the telephone company.

Anything affecting the financial stability of this business directly affects them, as well as the army of telephone workers who are devoting their lives to furnishing you the very best service possible during good times and bad, at a cost to you as low as possible, consistent with financial safety.

EXHIBIT FOODS GROWN IN STATE AT RADIO CITY

Florida Exhibit to Open

JACKSONVILLE, OCT. 10.—(FNS)—Florida is to stage another big exhibit of its resources and attractions, such as it staged in Chicago during the great international exhibitions of 1933 and 1934. This time the show will be staged in Radio City or Rockefeller Center, right in the heart of New York City, where a great show, larger than any ever staged in Chicago, has been secured in the International building, one of the imposing structures which make Radio City one of the wonders of the world. The show will open Dec. 1, next, and will continue for three months or until March 1.

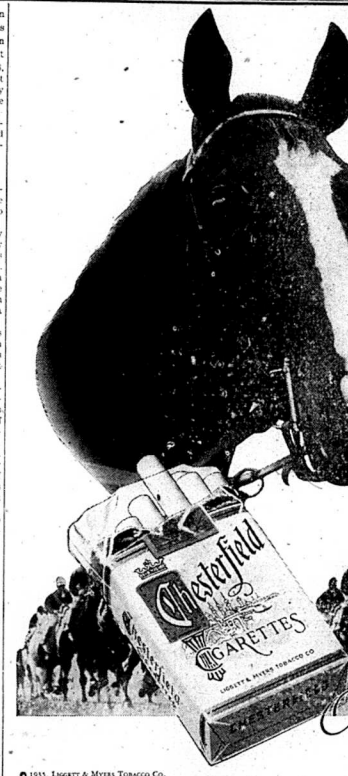

The New York exhibit will be held under the auspices of Florida National Exhibits, a non-profit association incorporated under the acts of 1925, authorizing the holding of exhibits of the state's resources and attractions for the benefit of the state as a whole, at point without the state.

The value of exhibits as a means of focusing public attention on what Florida has to offer in the way of attractions for winter visitors, health seekers, investors or farmers who will settle on some of the state's millions of unimproved acres, was so thoroughly demonstrated during the two seasons following the Chicago World's Fair that the officers and directors of Florida National Exhibits deemed it absolutely necessary that steps be taken to maintain the interest.

The exhibit will be held just at the time New York is filled with buyers and shoppers from all parts of the country but particularly from the New England states and from New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, West Virginia and Ohio.

the section of the north from which Florida usually draws most heavily, and which, by point of distance, is nearest the state and therefore calculated to show the best returns in the way of new winter visitors, in the judgment of the promoters of the enterprise. "We are interested in increasing the flow of winter visitors but we are more interested in increasing the demand for what Florida produces in the way of citrus fruits and winter grown vegetables," explained Earl Brown, who is one of the managers of the proposed exhibit in New York. "The showing made by the state in Chicago resulted in a 26 per cent increase in citrus fruits in the Chicago area," continued Mr. Brown. "We want to show to the world, especially an exhibit in Rockefeller Center, which is just now the hub of the western world, not only bring more tourists, but will result in a great increase in the consumption of Florida fruits and vegetables."

If you want candies to last twice as long try the following plan. Take each candy by the wick and give it a good coating of white varnish. Then put away for a day or two to harden. The varnish prevents the grease from running down and so preserves the life of the candy.

four weeks of experimenting. Plaster surgeons, called in to examine the result, decided the simulation a perfect one.

The story, based on actual cases, reports and happenings in the government's campaign against organized crime, was filmed with every attention to authenticity. The prison break scene, in which Chester Morris and Calhoun had up warden and prison board and escape in a prison car, closely followed in general detail an actual escape.

For the first time in the history of make-up it was used in this picture to duplicate a "dotted" face. Joseph Calleia, stage star of "Small Miracles," was supposed to have a surgeon's disfigurement. By artificial means, kept a secret, the muscles of his face were lifted, exactly as is done in plastic surgery, in a make-up job required.

MRS. RUTH OWEN IS MENTIONED AS A CANDIDATE

MIAMI, Oct. 10.—(FNS)—The arrival of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen in New York last week and her announced intention to spend a portion of her vacation period visiting friends and supporters in her former Florida congressional district, caused her name to be mentioned among the possible candidates for governor of Florida in 1936.

Mrs. Owen, daughter of the Great Commoner, is at present serving as United States Minister to Denmark. "Interviewed on her arrival on the S. S. Scamania," she gave no indications of having local political ambitions, and stated her Florida visit was merely to renew old acquaintances and enjoy a vacation in her home state. She is accompanied by her daughter, Miss Helen Raloff Owen, and Miss Marjorie Bremer.

While encouraging children to study, let us also protect their health. To those ambitious parents who persistently protect their children, we wish to point out the drawbacks of a survey conducted among school children in a typical rural state. The survey showed that 77 per cent of the children were getting less sleep than they should. The survey also showed that 77 per cent of the children were getting less sleep than they should. The survey also showed that 77 per cent of the children were getting less sleep than they should.

1. Failure of parents to realize importance of regular bedtime and long hours of sleep for children.

2. Children being taken to entertainments, parties, or movies on school nights.

3. Late supper hours or early rising time.

4. Loud radio or unguarded conversation after children's bedtime.

5. Children curtailing their own sleep because of play interests.

6. Failure of other children nearby to go to bed on time.

Necessary periods of sleep for children as reported by health authorities through the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection are as follows: Age 1 to 3 years, 12 hours; age 3 to 5 years, 11 hours; age 5 to 12 years, 10 hours; age 12 years and over, 9 hours.

secret service behind him. Much of the action occurs within a state penitentiary and its pole-drawing episodes, including the sensational jail break, are said to be the most realistic of scintilla scenes of prison life to be photographed since the memorable picture, "The Big House," in which Chester Morris scored one of his first big hits.
